

The ImagiNation Network offers special rooms for clubs and conferences on a vast variety of subjects, addressing as many of our members needs as possible.

This is where you will find Yserbius Guild and Red Baron Squadron meetings. You will also find trivia and role-playing games (RPGs) on a regular basis. In addition, you will find clubs and discussions on a multitude of special interests from politics to self-help groups, poetry to comic books and from video games to fan clubs. Only your ImagiNation can limit the number of topics available to members.

The following is the schedule of conferences for the month of November as of October 10. The schedule is subject to change. Conferences marked "Private" or "Pvt" require approval from the conference's host or moderator to attend. If you have a question regarding a specific conference listed here, please write to the name and box below the conference name. Trivia questions only should be sent to box 996. All times listed are Pacific Time.

A Safecracker's in the Parlor

The ImagiNation Network has hired a code cracker. Don't worry programmers, his name is Alfred Sheinwold and during WWII he was the chief code and cipher expert for the American Allied Services. Head of cryptographic security, Sheinwold doubled as the resident safe-cracking expert of the OSS, an early manifestation of today's CIA. He has since gone on to write a bestseller which has sold more than two million copies, and writes a 35 year old syndicated column which is published in some 200 newspapers.

The code word here is BRIDGE. Sheinwold is not only one of the most widely read authors on the subject, he also has had hundreds of tournament victories and has served the American Contract Bridge League (ACBL) in many capacities.

The ImagiNation Network is proud to have Sheinwold's column, from the Los Angeles Times Syndicate, currently on-line in the Bridge Parlor. Three columns are published weekly.

'Sheinwold on Bridge' currently shares its byline with Frank Stewart, another respected teacher and author. Stewart is the author of 17 books and has published hundreds of technical articles and humor pieces in most of the world's leading bridge magazines. He was co-editor for five years of the most widely-circulated of these, The Contract Bridge Bulletin, which is published by the ACBL. Stewart is currently co-editing the Fifth Edition of the Official Encyclopedia of Bridge.

A visit to the Bridge Parlor might not buy you expertise at safe cracking but will surely aid and enhance your bridge game.

If you play any interesting hands on ImagiNation, submit them to PRGRichard, Box 14959, for possible use in the column.

World Bridge Champion and Author Kit Woolsey Comes to INN Bridge Club

Forty members of the INN Bridge Club attended a conference where Kit Woolsey, World Bridge Champion, contributor to all the major Bridge publications and author of three excellent books on bridge.

Partnership Defense,
Modern Defensive Signalling, and

gave invitational forums on partnership defense. On September 28 and 30, Kit fielded questions about all aspects of defense and gave the attendees invaluable advice. To these members, these were truly red letter days.

INNBridge and INN Honor served as hostesses and were delighted at the opportunity to learn along with our club members. They will be arranging other special events for bridge-playing members of INN in the near future.

CHESS CLUB NEWS

Lots of things are happening in the Chess Club these days! Our first Open House, organized by Welcoming Committee Chairman MacDuff, was a lot of fun. Club Champion Tiger22 accepted simultaneous challenges from nine club members—and won eight! The only challenger who scored a victory against the champ was Chessnut18—congratulations to all who participated. Our Masters Committee also staged a blitz demo, with games at 10 seconds per move—it was amazing to see chess at that level played that fast.

Our Game of the Month winner for last month was Forest16, who chose psychology to set the stage for a great game against MrDog on our Gold Ladder. "I had played him before and knew he preferred an open game with lots of tactical chances. So I deliberately played for a closed game." The resulting Stonewall Defense won the September contest.

Speaking of the ladder, we also crowned our third-quarter champion September 30. Play2Kc21 is our new Club Champion, with nine wins on the top level of the Gold ladder! Ken, playing on the Intermediate ladder, is our new Blue Ladder champ.

Our fourth-quarter ladder champions will also be declared Best of the Year on December 31, so there's plenty of time for new members to get involved. You can start ladder play any week—just drop by the Chess Club and read the directions in the LADDER ROUNDS topic on the club's bulletin board. We now have ladder rounds eight times a week. It's a fun way to get in a little "serious chess."

So, for those of you able to use these new access numbers, congratulations! And for the rest of our members, we'll continue to work on ways to further reduce costs for all the residents of ImagiNation. Accessing 9600 baud requires INN version 2.3 available around the end of October.

Special Access Explained

Recently about one out of ten INN members learned (through the hilling screen when first entering ImagiNation)

INN has been forced to add a surcharge to access from selected dial-in locations. The sites are referred to as Special Access Sites with the fee being called a Special Access Surcharge. "What is Special Access and why am I lucky enough to be afflicted?" you may ask. It's not an easy subject. Since I was the only one failing to take a step backward when General Manager Philip Monego asked for volunteers, I got the nod to explain it.

The Packet Data Network (PDN) has access points (modems) in over 700 cities within the continental United States. These modems represent your local connection point when dialing into INN. Most of these cities have their own dedicated equipment and are directly connected into the nationwide system for communication back to the INN Data Center. However, some do not have their own equipment because the number of callers from the local area is small. They are called Special Access Locations.

To provide these communities local access, and avoid telephone company long distance voice rate charges, a dedicated communication line is connected to the nearest city that does contain its own communication equipment. This electronic "umbilical cord" solves the communication issue, but causes a pricing issue. Even though this type of connection between cities is cheaper than voice connections, it is still a connection subject to tariff with charges dictated by governmental regulation.

INN is, by far, the least expensive service of its type in the world (even with special access surcharge). We have been able to provide low rates through extensive use of technology and serious negotiation with Packet Data Network providers. Our member fees are so low INN cannot continue to absorb the charges associated with these Special Access cities and locations. It is for this reason, and this reason alone, an hourly surcharge is being added for members calling from these locations effective October 22, 1993.

The Special Access Charge does not effect most INN members. Even so, we will continue striving to "level the playing field" providing inexpensive access to all of our members without regard to where the four winds may have taken them.

One On One With INN Presents Laura Norman

Director of Member Services, Laura Norman, is the featured guest for November's One On One With ImagiNation. Join her on Friday, Nov. 5, for two one-hour conferences at 5 pm and again at 7 pm in the INN Help Room. Under her direction are Technical Support, Sysop Organization, Member Support, and Correspondence. Bring your questions, comments and suggestions but be sure to arrive early as space is limited.
